Preserve the Memorial Aspect

Now that the Memorial Arena is in operation, the admonition of Archdeacon Catchpole at the opening ceremonies should be taken to heart. The Archdeacon in his dedicatory remarks expressed the hope that the fundamental purpose for which the Memorial was erected, would not be forgotten.

In this he reflected the opinion of a large body of the public. There is no suggestion that the memorial aspect of the building will be deliberately forgotten, but there is a realization that time tends to blunt the memory unless some effort is made to keep memory alive.

There is, for instance, the fact that although the arena is now officially opened and a fine bronze plaque has been erected at the entrance, the work of the Memorial Committee is not yet completed. The memorial aspect of the arena, we understood, was to consist of an arborescent semi-circle surrounding a fountain—or perhaps the Cenotaph removed from its present location at the park—and looking down an avenue to the foot of Pendozi Street. Obviously, of course, this cannot be carried through until the whole civic centre property is properly landscaped. Nevertheless, the memorial committee cannot consider its work completed until this or some equally suitable memorial spot is incorporated with the building.

Then, too, in order to perpetuate the memorial aspect of the building, the arena commission might well adopt the policy of one-minute silence before the commencement of all its major attractions, such as hockey games, ice carnivals, etc. This small ceremony would serve to impress upon those in attendance that the fundamental purpose of the building is that of a living memorial. True, once or twice, until the policy was understood, it might be difficult to obtain the minute of silence, but once the general public understood its purpose, it would be readily acceptable. It would serve, too, to remind the youngsters of this and future generations that the building has a two-fold purpose and that one of them is to pay tribute to those men from the district who gave their lives for an ideal.

Another and very important thing, The Courier believes the Memorial Committee should undertake at once is the preparation of an official Roll of Honor. The Courier has endeavored to prepare as accurate a list as possible, but, inevitably, some names were missed. Several suggested additions have been received since the publication of the list in the recent Memorial Arena Supplement. The compilation of such a list is no easy task. It must, for instance, be decided if men who lived and enlisted elsewhere but whose families were resident here at the time of the casualty, are to be included. Conversely, the same situation applies to men who grew up here and went to school here but whose families moved away before the casualty occurred. Then again, what of the man who was killed while on military duty after the conclusion of hostilities? These and other problems make the compilation of the list a difficult one, but the preparation of such a list should be no longer delayed, be it the responsibility of the Memorial Committee or some other body.

The memorial and arena committees, The Courier believes, would do well to sit down together and to plan some definite means whereby the memorial aspect of the building may be kept constantly before those who use it. Unless this is done there is a real probability that the memorial aspect may become lost in the flurry of sporting activities.

The Junior Band

In the general satisfaction stemming from the opening of the Memorial Arena, one rather significant feature has been overlooked. That is the appearances and the performance of the Kelowna Junior Band.

Kelowna for many, many years has never had a band; certainly none that could compare with the aggregations representing Penitents, Kamloops, Trail and other Interior Centres. In this regard, at least, Kelowna fell far behind its sister cities. The reason for this is difficult to understand. It simply seemed that a band organization could not get going; this despite the fact that there was probably more call for band appearances here than in other places. Be that as it may, when a band—other than the Legion's splendid pipe band—was required, musical organizations from other cities had to be approached.

If the performances of the Kelowna Junior Band during the past ten days is any criterion, this situation is now rapidly being rectified. At the Memorial opening and at the arena events thereafter the band gave highly creditable performances. It is understood that the Juniors have been temporarily augmented by older musicians, but a class of youngsters is now being trained and when they are proficient enough will be worked into the band organization, probably replacing the older talent.

The organization, of course, still suffers from lack of support—moral and financial. It is still in desperate need of instruments and no such organization can function to the best of its ability without the proper tools. However, now that the band is rapidly proving to the Kelowna public that it means business and can provide this city with a very creditable musical organization, it is more than probable that it will see a satisfactory upswing in its public support, both moral and financial. Supporting this organization is supporting ourselves. All community activities will benefit greatly from the active co-operation of a good musical organization. It would appear that at long last Kelowna has had the opportunity of obtaining such an organization; if it want it, it should support it.

Politics is Your Business

When people assert that democracies assure the kind of government the people vote for, they merely talk about a theory. It would be more true to say, the way things are working out in this country, that the people get the kind of government they do not vote for. Public elections right down the line find a very large percentage of the eligible voters not bothering to cast their ballots at all and this non-voting percentage could completely change most of the election pictures. When a large minority of the voters become too indifferent to bother to cast their ballots, we may as well admit that we value democracy but lightly. It seems the hardest thing in the world to arouse free peoples to educate themselves in the very things that ensure their freedom.

Your right to vote places you on the board of directors which determines how public business will be run, and your vote carries equal weight with any other. Your obligation is to become fully informed on which party has the best plan for running the business and, having made up your mind, going to the polls and supporting that party. Too many fail to realize that the right to cast a ballot carries with it a definite responsibility.

Take the current South Okanagan by-election, for instance.

There are those who declare they are not going to vote because of this or that excuse—it cannot be a reason. Let us look at one or two of the excuses most generally advanced by those who say they will not go to the polls next Monday.

One of the most frequent excuses is that the candidate is not known personally to the voter in question. To slough off one's responsibility on such a flimsy excuse is utter folly. There is no need for anyone remaining away from the polls because he has not had an opportunity of personally deciding which of the two candidates he "likes the better." No person need feel any reluctance about casting his ballot for either of the current candidates. Both are young men with good reputations.

Moreover, in this riding we may as well now face the fact that the old days are gone. There was a time in this riding when everyone was known to everyone else and the personality of the candidate was a very important factor in any election. Votes were cast for friends or against enemies. Those days are gone. The voting strength of this constituency has increased seventy-five per cent in seven years and fifty-nine per cent in three years. Under such conditions how can the voter expect to be acquainted with all persons who may be selected as political candidates? Indeed, what percentage of the people in this area does the average voter know today? An infinitesimal number. There are probably thirty thousand persons living within the boundaries of South Okanagan electoral district. Does he expect to know all of them? Of course not! Why then should he expect to be personally acquainted with a man because he happens to be chosen as a political candidate?

The candidate, moreover, is but a symbol, a rallying point around which people who think alike may gather. True, on occasion the personality of the candidate may win or lose votes, but there can be no question of this in the present contest. Neither party would seem to have any great edge insofar as its candidate is concerned. The candidate is but the medium through which the voter indicates what type of government he desires in this province. If the voter feels that the present government has given sound administration, is carrying through a sound road program, has improved the social services of the province, has instituted a sound forest conservation program well, then, he will naturally vote for the Coalition candidate.

If on the other hand, the voter has become enamored with theory instead of performance, promises instead of accomplishments, he will vote for the CCF candidate.

But, however the voter may feel he cannot avoid his responsibility of voting. It is his obligation to get out to the poll on Monday next and cast his ballot against the government if he feels the present administration has been a poor one or for the Coalition candidate if he believes this province has had a fairly satisfactory conduct of its affairs during the past few years. The responsibility is an individual one falling squarely upon the shoulders of each one of the thirteen thousand eligible voters. Each person must reach his own decision and fulfill his obligation to himself and his fellow citizens by indicating his sincere opinion at the polls.

Kelowna In Bygone Days

From the Files of The Kelowna Courier

TEN YEARS AGO

November 17, 1938

Special Investigator F. A. MacGregor, Ottawa, is en route to the Okanagan to complete the inquiry into the fruit combine charges made last August by Godfrey Isaacs.

Work at assembling a new 30-car ferry for the Kelowna-Westbank service is not expected to start here until the first of the year.

Arrangements now are completed by the B.C. Fruit Board for a $20,000 advertising campaign throughout the four western provinces to push the big crop of Okanagan apples across to the consumers.

Retail Merchants Bureau again is planning to place Christmas trees on Bernard Avenue for the holiday season.

New Gyro president J. J. Ladd last week was installed by Lt. Gov. Roy Sharp of Tacoma, Wash.

Six Kelowna persons were fined $10 and costs each on Monday, Nov. 14, in city police court, on charges of petty theft from Safeway's store.

An 18-pound Kamloops trout last week was hooked in Okanagan Lake by J. H. Thompson, Okanagan Mission. This is one of the biggest landed this year and certainly the largest caught in the Mission area.

Kelowna's provincial basketball champions of last year, the Golden Phantoms, defeated 20 here Saturday night by the Rossland Chrysler Royals in the first game of the season.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, November 14, 1918

For the first time in its history, Kelowna went mad last Monday, made with a delirium of joy, and it was both meet and right that it should be so, for was not the news the signing of the armistice by Germany, an armistice so stringent and yet so embracing that it guaranteed peace, an event worth celebrating by the utmost energy of limb and of wind, of voice and of action.

Certainly the pent-up feelings of four years made up for lost time on Monday, when the cheering crowds threw business and the daily routine to the winds and remembered only that the war was practically a thing of the past. The first news came to town over the telephone at 7:30 a.m. Monday.

Little notice was taken at the time, however, until C.P. Telegraphs opened at 8:30 and a dispatch with full details came over the wires to the Courier.

Mayor Sutherland and J. W. Jones, M.L.A., immediately telephoned the courier office to read the glad tidings.

Seeing the pent-up feelings of the people around the building, Mr. Jones and Mayor Sutherland climbed to the top of the building and with the aid of a Union Jack led cheer after cheer, while the shrieking of the fire siren and deeper roar of whistles announced to the city and district that the great event had taken place.

From then onward, turmoil and flags seemed to be the combined order of the day. Impromptu processions were organized, old oil cans were at a premium, and anything that would make a very big noise became an article to be coveted.

At 2:30 p.m., Mr. Jones, from the roof of the Courier building, made a very impromptu speech. The crowd sang the Doxology, after which a prayer of thanksgiving was offered by Archdeacon T. Greene. This was followed by a speech from J. W. Jones, in which he referred to the trying four years of war just past.

He then read from the Courier the abridged terms of the armistice, clause after clause, bringing forth shouts and cheers of approval. Mayor Sutherland referred to the boys who had gone, of whom many would not come back.

They had done their work faithfully and well and what could the people at home do? They could do nothing better than buy Victory bonds, for it would be a long time before the troops would come home and they were supporting just as much now as before.

After singing the National Anthem for the second time, the gaily-decorated automobiles and vehicles lined up for a parade around the city. The procession was headed by Pte. Reith bearing the Union Jack, behind which came the returned soldiers, the city's two fire trucks, the Boy Scouts, over 60 automobiles and a number of other decorated vehicles.

At night things quietened down considerably, though during the evenings two effigies of the Kaiser were burned on a pyre of brush.

The first one, which earlier in the day had been suspended on wires in the middle of the road, was burned outside the city hall, while the other, bearing a card inscribed "We cheer for the Kaiser at each successive collapse of the dummy."

Certainly the day long will be remembered and just as certainly it will be many a long day before Kelowna sees such a heartily burst of tumultuous thankfulness and joy.

The total subscriptions to the Victory Loan campaign here are $105,000, more than half the quota.

All meetings are stopped, churches, schools and places of amusement are closed because of the Spanish influenza. Serious cases have been developed in Chinatown and six deaths have been reported.

Dr. Knox has arrived from New York where he made a special study of the disease and its germs. He has taken charge of checking the epidemic as medical health officer.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Thursday, November 12, 1908

Dr. Paul de Pytfer, von Altshofen, LL.D. of Lucerne, Switzerland, has purchased the old Mission house and 15 acres of land surrounding it from the South Okanagan Land Co. and will settle on his purchase next spring with his family, eight in number.

A new flagstaff at the public school was inaugurated on October 30, with a ceremony in which Senator Bostock, Hon. William Templeton and Duncan Ross, Liberal candidate and former member for Yale-Cariboo, took part.

The flag was hoisted to the mast head by Mr. Bostock, who gave a short eloquent speech voicing the devotion of all British nationalists to their flag and bidding the young to cherish it as a badge of the glorious empire.

Our Town

By JACK SCOTT

I have been asked to be the judge of a "Beautiful Baby" contest in my home town and I am hiding out from the committee. I was once a judge at a beauty contest and several of the mothers of the contestants are said to be still looking for me with blood in their eyes.

Judging anything is a dangerous business because no man is neutral, specially when it comes to weighing the merits of the ladies. His judgement can be hopelessly warped in making a neutral decision by nothing more than the color of a contestant's hair, the look in her eye or even if she just reminds him of a girl he once met at a summer camp at the tender age of 16.

The pictures of American beauty contest winners we see in the newspapers and in Life Magazine all seem to look like the same girl (you don't suppose it is the same girl do you?) and this leads me to believe that perhaps the professional judges know exactly what they are looking for.

A judge of livestock, for instance, or of say, peaches, is obviously looking for a standard type. In the case of peaches, a judge would look for texture, the absence of fuzz, the firmness of the fruit itself and, of course, for size. Few judges probably lead a dull life, but obviously never have to keep an eye on the nearest exit.

The trouble with finding a standard type in pinning a blue ribbon on a young lady is that there never has been a universally accepted model, or not for long anyway.

Chinooks, for example, go simply wild about girls whose faces have a straight line from the end of the nose to the crown of the head. The South American Vaupes considered the chief attractions of girl Vaupes who, consequently, wore a tight garter below the knee from infancy.

The Krigs estimate of female beauty is almost solely governed by how fat she is, the Samoyde looker is determined by the smallness of her eyes and the Aztecs were just mad about girls with flat heads.

1948 is going to look like. "Was it not Hume who once said, "Beauty is no quality in things themselves; it exists merely in the mind which contemplates them; and each mind perceives a different beauty?"

Yes, it was. I looked it up.

U.S. DOLLARS RESTRICTION TO CONTINUE

Hon. Douglas Abbott, minister of finance, announced that the rationing of U.S. dollars for pleasure travel will continue in force during the period from November 16, 1948 to November 15, 1949. The maximum amount of U.S. dollars which any Canadian resident may obtain during this period for this purpose will remain at $150. In the case of children eleven years and under, the amount is $100.

The minister paid tribute to the Canadian public for its co-operation during the past year in complying with both the spirit and the letter of travel regulations. He pointed out that it was expected that the rationing of pleasure travel during the past 12 months would show a saving of between $40 million and $50 million U.S. dollars, as compared with 1947 travel expenditures. This substantial sum was made available for many essential supplies and commodities during this period.

Form H Permits

Decision to continue the pleasure travel ration, he said, was reached after a most careful assessment of all factors relating to Canada's U.S. dollar position. It was felt that the rationing of pleasure travel was less onerous than many other restrictions made necessary by exchange difficulties. Therefore, to the extent that the exchange position has improved, it seemed reasonable to relax the more burdensome regulations first. Travel restriction, however, Mr. Abbott said, will be removed as soon as conditions warrant.

Form H permits will continue to be necessary to take out of Canada more than $10 U.S. or more than $25 in U.S. and Canadian funds combined. As in the past, there will be no restriction on the number of pleasure trips taken by Canadian residents in the United States as long as the annual allotment is not exceeded. Any U.S. dollars obtained for one trip and not used on that trip must be brought back to Canada and exchanged for Canadian dollars. Applications for U.S. dollars for business, health or educational travel will continue to receive special consideration.

WENATCHEE APPLE CROP YIELD DOWN

An estimated crop of 16,446 carloads of apples is forecast by the Wenatchee Valley Traffic association according to the Wenatchee (Wash.) World.

The association's Nov. 1 storage report showed that 3,727 fewer carloads are in warehouses than at this time in 1947.

The 16,446 total compares with 19,285 cars estimated August 1, and the 1947 crop of 22,756.

Total shipments were 4,981 to November 1, the report said, against 7,564 in 1947.

In storage are 11,465 carloads compared with 15,192 last season. Secretary Martin Foster said all totals were figured on 798 boxes to the car.

Small sizes and poor pollination, especially in the upper Okanagan Valley, helped reduce the crop total, experts report.

They have estimated Winesap production is running an average of two sizes under 1947.

The 16,446 'car estimate, with 4,981 shipments to the first of the month, left 70 per cent of the crop to be moved to market. Ten year averages show there is usually 80 per cent of the crop still to go at this time in the deal.

Price quotations were the same as the past few days, marketers reported this morning. They're $2.50 for Jonathans, $3.75 for Red Delicious and $3.20-25 for Delicious.

These were for combination pack, 16 1/2 and larger. Observers said the market continued at a slow pace, as it has for the past 10 days.

MANY PEOPLE ATTEND NAVY LEAGUE DANCE

Cedar and Fir Branches Create Christmas Holiday Spirit

Cedar and fir branches, with Christmas trees, created a pre-Christmas holiday atmosphere at the Navy League's Thursday evening dance. Over 90 couples graced the floor and danced to the music of Carl Dunaway and his orchestra.

Many pre-dance parties were the order of the evening for this high light of the social season. Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Gregory entertained in their Abbott St. home for Mr. and Mrs. D. Poole, and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Simpson.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Winter were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Disney, and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Walrod.

Many navy uniforms were in evidence on the floor, lending a true navy spirit to the dance. Seen among the dancers were Maj.-Gen. and Mrs. R. F. L. Keller, Commander and Mrs. R. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Cookson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Proctor, Mr. and Mrs. L. Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Brodie, Mr. and Mrs. O. Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. O. MANY ATTEND COALITION TEA HONORING MLA

Over 100 members of the Kelowna Women's Coalition committee graced the lounge of the Willow Inn Thursday afternoon, at a tea, honoring Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A. The tea was convened by Mrs. Christopher Reid, who was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Hodges, and Mrs. R. D. Brown-Claughton, wife of the Coalition candidate.

Mrs. Hodges, who gave a short talk in support of Mr. Brown-Claughton, urged the women to realize that there was more at stake in this by-election than "just a seat in the legislature." She said the fact that it was "just a by-election, was more reason than ever to elect the man that stands for the things that we as women stand for."

"There are tremendous forces at work in the world today," said Mrs. Hodges, "forces which are doing their utmost to destroy all the things we hold so dear." She said so many people take the attitude, "It can't happen here," when speaking of communist control, "It can happen here and will," said Mrs. Hodges, "unless we stop taking things for granted and get out and vote." She warned that we should "never underestimate the power of your enemy, political or otherwise."

Mrs. Schwartz is at present visiting in Vancouver at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. Granger, and plans to leave for Los Angeles shortly.

U.E.F.B. OPENS DRIVE TO AID NEEDY BRITONS

The United Emergency Fund for Britain has launched an appeal for funds to aid needy Britons and the drive will continue until December 5, according to an announcement made at the executive offices in Kelowna.

After months of extensive effort, devoted to setting up its provincial administrative bodies, machinery for the co-ordination of all Canadian aid to Britain will start functioning immediately upon completion of the fund raising campaign. U.E.F.B. enjoys the co-operation and approval of this movement of a large number of leaders in government, religion, education, industry, finance, labor, and social and welfare groups in Canada and the United Kingdom.

Plans and objectives of U.E.F.B., as outlined, include an overall voluntary aid to Britain program. Donations to the fund will be used to make bulk purchases of food and other supplies in Canada which will be shipped to U.E.F.B. warehouses in Britain for general distribution under the direct supervision of the organization's advisory council. Ocean shipping charges will be absorbed by the British government, who will also provide free dockage, handling, inland transportation and warehousing in the United Kingdom. All such gift supplies will be exempt from customs and excise duties, materially reducing costs and producing more relief for every dollar contributed.

U.E.F.B. will also forward, without cost, parcels packed by organizations in Canada for approved recipients in Britain if delivered at U.E.F.B. warehouses in collective shipments. Standardized U.E.F.B. packages, in various sizes and prices, containing selected foodstuffs for deficient diets, are being prepared and will be available shortly. Arrangements are being completed to handle donations of used clothing, bedding, and similar items, also without cost to the sender, early in the coming year.

LIONS CLUB DANCE PROVES HUGE SUCCESS

Highlighting last week's list of social events was the Kelowna Lions' Fourth Annual Charter Ball, held at Eldorado Arms, Friday evening.

Evening gowns of the latest fashions were much in evidence. One particularly noticeable was a red and white chequered taffeta, with a large bow on the side. Another that attracted wide attention was a white strapless, net over taffeta gown. Many black dresses were on the floor, among them a black net with strips of taffeta.

Many pre-dance parties heralded the ball. Mr. W. Mitchell was host and guests included Mr. and Mrs. Cam. Lipsett, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Russell, Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Rowcliffe, Miss Marie Frey, Mr. and Mrs. W. Beaver-Jones, W. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Manville, and Miss Patsy Rowcliffe.

FATS, FRUITS, APPRECIATED IN ENGLAND

Harry Williams, formerly of Kelowna and now resident of Vernon, a few days ago returned from an extended visit to Britain and outlined for persons sending parcels to Britain the items which are now appreciated most by the British people.

While the postal deadline for Christmas parcels has now passed, Mr. Williams emphasizes that the commodities most appreciated are fats, fruits such as raisins and currants, canned meats, powdered milk, powdered eggs, prunes and rice.

Mr. Williams has made keen observations of the problems of housewives during his stay in England, and in his letter, he gives some idea of the difficulties which confront them, owing to the shortages of essential foods.

So those people who are planning to send a remembrance Overseas for Auld Lang Syne at Christmas time, will be interested to hear Mr. Williams' suggestions.

Lard, currants, raisins, candied peel, dried fruit, sugar and in homes where there are children—especially candy, or "sweets" as they are called over there, also a little white flour, are all in short supply.

He makes the suggestion that it is better to send ingredients for a cake, than the cake itself.

"I have watched the children standing, looking wistfully at the candies, and wishing they could buy some. They are rationed to three-quarters of a pound per month," writes Mr. Williams.

Chocolate Bars

He suggests a few chocolate bars and chewing gum to fill odd corners in parcels, as "the children are crazy for gum," he observes. English chewing gum is inferior in quality and flavor he writes.

Another item eagerly sought after is corned beef, or tinned meat of any kind. In the Old Country, meat is rationed to one shilling's worth, (or 25 cents) per person, per week; half a pound of sugar; a quarter pound of margarine; two ounces of butter; two ounces of lard; one ounce of bacon; two ounces of tea.

Touching on the lighter side, Mr. Williams writes he has been to several football games, also three ice carnivals and one hockey game, the latter being played all summer in England. "The ice seems much faster than in Canada," in his opinion.

Cagers Plan League Play To Meet Puck Challenge

League play in senior men's basketball is almost sure of a try this winter, following last Sunday's annual meeting of the Interior Basketball Association, at the Women's Institute Hall, Kelowna.

If this style of competitive play is adopted, it will be the first time cagers have played through a league schedule for the right to enter B.C. playoffs. Prior to this games have all been of the exhibition variety, with all registered teams going through a pre-arranged playoff plan towards the end of the season.

The rosters of league play have been increasing each year, as interest in basketball—except during playoffs—appeared to be waning in hockey centres like Kamloops and Vernon. The move received hearty support from Kelowna this year, spear-headed by Herb Capozzi, president of the Kelowna Basketball Association.

Several minutes of pros and cons were taken up on this vital question. Finally, after Capozzi, Sandy Hay, Kamloops, and an Oliver representative, drew up a tentative sketch of the plan, the question was put to the vote. Previous dissenters voted for it to make it unanimous.

The six cities—Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Oliver and Princeton—now will let the executive know what night they prefer for home games. When all data is received, the executive is expected to draft a schedule for two divisions. Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna will be in the northern half, Penticton, Oliver and Princeton in the southern. Next year other teams will be allowed to enter. One of these may be Summerland.

Proponents of league play suggested also that Oliver and Kamloops make one sweep out of their divisions, fashioned after the practice in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Oliver would play Kelowna, then return home. But for the joint to Vernon and Kamloops, Friday and Saturday nights were suggested.

Conversely, Kamloops would go to Princeton for a one night stand, and play at Penticton—either before or after the Princeton trip—on a Friday night, and at Oliver on the following Saturday.

Ninth Term for Bannell

When elections of officers came up, Andy Bannell, eight-time chief from Penticton, was unanimously returned. Jack Hooper, also of Penticton, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Capozzi was named first vice-president and Chris Wright, Kamloops, second vice. Representatives on the executive are: Sandy Hay, Kamloops; North Okanagan-Mainline; Roy James, Kelowna; Central Okanagan; Pat Bibb, Oliver; South Okanagan; Jack Ross, Princeton; Similkameen.

By resolution adopted at Sunday's meeting, all officers now will hold office for two years. Previously they were elected annually.

The same honorary presidents were returned: Jack Robinson, Kamloops; L. S. "Dolly" Grey, Vernon; Bill Spear, Kelowna; C. J. Huddleston, Summerland; Mayor Robert Lyon, Penticton; Doug Smithers, Oliver.

Capozzi's resolution that the constitutional limitation of teams in championship games to 12 men signed up be abolished was approved.

The Kelowna prexy also urged that more than 10 men be allowed to strip for playoff games. This matter will be brought before the B.C. Basketball Association, president Harry Chapman said. The B.C. head was present at Sunday's meeting and took an active part in several of the discussions.

Another bugbear to the interior association in the past has been conflict between playoff dates of association-affiliated teams and high school teams. In many cases a number of boys might be on an I.B.A. team and a high school team at the same time.

I.B.A. representatives complained of lack of liaison between themselves and school heads in the past in fixing playoff dates, resulting often in playoffs overlapping. This problem is expected to be clarified by the B.C. body at the next executive meeting.

ACTION OF LAW SOCIETY POSES PRECEDENT

With Communist condemnation coming out of Canada's labor unions, from church and government leaders, the recent action of the British Columbia Law Society in refusing to admit a Communist to its membership poses an interesting precedent.

Gordon Martin of Nanaimo, a second world war veteran, married with two children, graduated in law from U.B.C. When his application for admission to the B.C. bar was turned down, some of his classmates, some province-wide civil liberty groups and many street-corner pundits were up in arms: they charged the Benchers were prosecuting Martin, infringing upon democratic liberties, and were behaving unlawfully. When Martin's appeal for reconsideration also was turned down the tumult increased.

Now, however, the Benchers have issued in a 3,000-word statement to Martin, their reasons for refusing him admission, and their reason centres around the contention a Marxian Socialist cannot defend Canadian law and hold his communist convictions at the same time. This unprecedented ruling provides far-reaching implications.

(Marxian Socialists are admittedly committed to bringing about by any means within their power—violently if necessary—the communist revolution from which they claim will result a classless and stateless society.)

The barristers' oath requires swearing to make known to the King "all treasons or traitorous conspiracies"—promising to "neglect no man's interests, nor seek to destroy and man's property."

Communist Forum

The Benchers said that when Martin says "he can conscientiously take such an oath, in view of his subscription and general acceptance of the Marxist Manifesto, the benchers find it difficult to believe in his sincerity or intellectual honesty. . . . He would be taking the oath unscrupulously."

Martin, who lead U.B.C.'s communist forum last year and who once contested a provincial election as a Labor-Progressive Party candidate, charged in a statement that the benchers "attributed to me ideas and desires which I have not only never had but which are directly opposed to those which I support and advocate."

Martin claimed the benchers' decision was based on partisan views rather than on evidence.

The B.C. Professional Act permits decisions for membership to be determined on the "apparent fitness" of applicants.

Whatever may now result from the published reasons of the Benchers' refusal, a further consideration may be anticipated when the B.C. Legislature meets next spring. Martin has said he will ask the government to rule whether the Law Society can refuse him admission to their ranks for the reasons they have admitted.

A Vancouver newspaper, (The Sun), commenting the day following the publishing of the Benchers' statement said editorially "the nub of the case is the Benchers' assertion that the loyalty of a communist is not to his own country or to the democratic system of that country, but to the subversive doctrines and dictates of a foreign power." "We believe the court of public opinion," the paper said, "to which Mr. Martin appeals, will find in favor of the Benchers."
